

Indiana should keep the current standards that they currently have or even surpass them.